Campus Ready for Celebration

Alumni Office Has Greek Alumni List

The Alumni office has prepared lists of all fraternity and sorority alumni who will be back on the campus for the Homecoming celebration and who will attend buffet suppers at the Greek houses Friday night. Fraternity and sorority representatives may pick up these lists at the alumni office, Law 7.

Homecoming Program Will Highlight MSU's Fiftieth Anniversary

The MSU-Utah State football game, convocations, parades, alumni gatherings, election of Homecoming queen, and selection of beard contest winners will highlight the Homecoming celebration this week end when alumni and students meet to celebrate the University's 50th anniversary.

Final plans for the two-day celebration have been announced by Bud Drum, Miles City, Homecoming chairman, and a committee working with him to handle arrangements. Alumni from New York, Texas, California, and Washington have signified intention of attending the Homecoming.

To correct an error concerning the Homecoming dance Friday night, the Kaimin announces that Gay Nineties costumes have not been cancelled.

"Girls who can find Gay Nineties costumes should wear them," Chairman Drum said. "Prizes will be given winning costumes at the dance."

Crosby's Band Cancels Date

"Bob Crosby's orchestra is unable to come," Jake Nevins, Missoula, reported to Central Board Tuesday. Nevins said that Crosby is reorganizing his band.

Central Board approved the appointment of Dave Martin, Missoula, and Kathy Koefod, Havre, to Publications board.

ASMSU President Jerry Anderson, Helena, read a letter from Bozeman. The College campus was also painted. Both schools agreed to ignore the stunts and stick to the gentleman's agreement.

Central board will validate petitions for freshman offices Monday at 5 o'clock.

Kaimin Editor Arnie Rivin, Missoula, told Central board that the newly placed score board might be removed to put up bleachers for the homecoming game.

Tannisse Brown, Missoula, reported that Al Merriam's band would play for the Crippled Children's dance Dec. 7.

"Be a good host," should be the slogan for homecoming, Kirk Badgley, Graduate manager, told Central board. The board agreed with the "be a good fellow and sell MSU" idea.

Faculty Adopts Registration Rule Changes

Several new registration regulations, recommended to Pres. James A. McCain by the Deans' council, were passed by faculty members, Registrar Leo Smith reported yesterday.

The new regulations are as follows:

Students may not register for courses after the end of the third week except by individual permission from the registrar. No new registrations will be accepted beginning Oct. 21, except by special permission.

For fall quarter, the present policy will be continued, which provides that after the end of the fourth week students may not drop courses except by special permission of the registrar. If such permission is granted, and if the student is reported as passing by his instructor, he will receive a "W." If he is reported by his instructor as failing, he will receive an "F," unless by special action of the registrar.

The following change is being introduced on an experimental basis for the fall quarter:

After the end of the sixth week any student who drops a course will receive an "F" unless this grade is changed to a "W" by special action of the registrar.

Scholarship To Be Set Up

Forestry school alumni contributed more than $200 in the campaign to set up a scholarship fund in memory of the forestry school men who died in World War II, according to Dean Kenneth P. Davis.

Organizations and administration of the fund will be supervised by the members of the Forestry club, but the scholarship, drawn from interest on the original investment, will be given in the name of the alumni.

Thus far, contributions from alumni have averaged well over the $7.50 minimum needed to raise the fund, which is expected to amount to $3,000, Dean Davis said.

The scholarship will be independent of the Forestry club loan fund, and the candidates will be chosen by three faculty members and three Forestry club seniors on the basis of scholarship, character, and leadership. Scholarship will be given the most consideration.

It's Their Show

At Tuesday's Homecoming committee meeting, one of the alums brought up a point which we may well consider. "Instead of playing on the 'Beat Utah State' theme," he said, "let's make our theme one of welcome—welcome to the alums and welcome to out-of-town visitors."

His idea was sound, his scheme was good. Sure, we want to beat Utah State. But even more than that, if possible, we want to show our grads a pleasant time and make them feel that it's really their show. Homecoming is their day. Let's make them feel welcome.

The Tactics Sink Lower

It's happened again. Certain sticky-fingered underhanded individuals have again been at work stealing posters and photographs used to advertise Homecoming queen candidates.

First, Joan Kuka's Delta-Gamma posters disappeared.

This time it was the expensive poster and photograph of Laura Bergh, Organized Independent Students' candidate. Through the courtesy of the Wilma theater, the poster had been placed in one of the theater's display cases near the front entrance.

Someone, Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning, pried the glass cover open wide enough to remove the poster.

It is highly doubtful if anyone wanted the photograph itself enough to risk damaging theater property to get it. Besides, the entire poster was taken. It is obvious that someone opposing Miss Bergh's candidacy resorted to the tactics of the common thief in order to hurt her chances of election.

No matter what a person's affiliation or whom his personal choice for queen may be, surely no one can deny that every group has a right to advertise its candidate.

And surely none of the 11 queen candidates want their respective supporters to resort to such tactics.

If we can't win an election honestly, we don't deserve to win.

IRC Delegates Will Attend Regional Meet

The International Relations club will send a delegation to the north-west IRC conference Nov. 15-16 at Marylhurst college near Portland. A letter from the Carnegie endowment for international peace announced the regional conference, Dr. Robert Turner, faculty adviser, said.

Chairman Art Clowes, Glasgow, decided at the Tuesday meeting to leave the selection of delegates for the next IRC meeting.

According to a letter from Sister Letitia Mary, faculty adviser of the Marylhurst group, a round-table program is being planned to discuss international problems dealing with United Nations conferences.

Four members of the club held a panel discussion of the topic: "Resolved: That we should continue our present state department foreign policy toward Russia." Joe McCracken, Dillon, and Ray Berry, San Diego, took the affirmative. Bill Pattison, Ryegate, and Dale McGarvey, Kalispell, upheld the negative.

The affirmative pointed out that Secretary of State Byrne's foreign policy coincides with the British view that no one wants war with Russia, but no one knows what

NEW HALL PRESENTS DANCE SATURDAY

New hall will be host to a "Gay 90s" dance complete with floor show Saturday night from 8:30 to 11:30. Lee Neumann, Lewistown, chairman of the decorations committee, announced yesterday.

Open to all students on the campus, the dance will feature Al Merriam's orchestra.

Stalin's intentions are. "The UN has been launched, it has weathered the storm (of controversies)," said McCracken, showing that we can "get along with Russia while sticking firmly to our interests."

The negative maintained that our foreign policy is extremely nationalistic, unduly provocative toward Russia, and should be changed. "Nationalism," McGarvey warned, "can lead only to war."

Pattison pointed out that maintaining our troops in Germany, China, Iceland, Japan, the Arctic, and our insistence on an interest in the Dardanelles does constitute a virtual encirclement of Russia. "That," he said, "combined with our atomic bomb stock pile, creates severely strained relations."

Discussion topic for Nov. 5 meeting will be: "Does the UN provide means and machinery to solve problems which threaten world peace?" The panel will consist of John Metcalf, Kalispell; Margie Karlin, Missoula; Modesta Booke, Dickinson, N. D., and Mary Frances Wydenes, Missoula.

should wear dresses suggesting older days, or they may wear jeans," he explained.

Costumes for men will be in the old style, with appropriate coats, ties, and hats, Drum pointed out.

Queen Election Today

Balloting for Homecoming queen will be conducted during this afternoon and until tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the Student Union store, with WAA handling the voting.

The 11 Homecoming queen candidates are scheduled to be presented Friday night at the student dance, Chairman Drum explained, and will also take part in the float parade listed for 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

Winning queen will be introduced during half time at the MSU-Utah State game Saturday afternoon.

Housemothers Judge Beards

Housemothers will judge winning beards Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Student Union theater. First prize of $100 and four $15 prizes for best red beard, blonde beard, most original beard, and married man's beard will be announced at the judging, which is open to the public. Prizes will be presented Friday night at the Gold room dance.

Convo Presented Twice

Len O'Neil, Great Falls, will be master of ceremonies for the student convocation Friday morning which will include presentation of Homecoming queen candidates, skits, and musical numbers.

The convocation, according to Julius Weurthner Jr., Great Falls, Homecoming convocation chairman, will be repeated Friday night for the benefit of alumni. Convocation numbers will be presented in old style and modern dress to emphasize the 50 years of MSU.

Seating Announced

Students will occupy the east bleachers Saturday with the exception of sections "R" and "S" (north section) which will be reserved, Bob Tabaracci, Great Falls, assistant ticket sales manager, reported.

Temporary bleachers on the north and south ends of the field are for general admission.

"All students having non-student guests will have to sit in non-student general admission sections," Tabaracci explained. "Activity tickets will be honored there."

In addition to the temporary bleachers, he said, sections A, B, M, and N are also general admission sections. All general admission sections are open to students with guests.

Parking areas, he said, are behind the Student Union, Library, and North hall.

FBI Jobs Open To Skilled Help

The Federal Bureau of Investigation urgently needs skilled typists and clerks in its Washington, D. C. offices, according to Mrs. Jean Robinson, secretary of the placement bureau.

The beginning salary of these positions is $1,954 per year, and all persons hired will be given jobs in Washington immediately. The applicant must be a high school graduate, in good physical condition, and between the ages of 18 and 40.

A special agent of the Butte office will visit the campus this week to interview applicants. Mrs. Robinson has asked that anyone interested see her for further details about the time and the place of the interviews.

Chancellor Advises MSU Beet Workers

Students volunteering for sugar beet field labor should discuss the details of wages, transportation, housing, and meals with their employers, according to Dr. George A. Selke, chancellor of the University of Montana.

Students will be allowed a two-week maximum absence and given an opportunity to make up this work, Dr. Selke announced.

Veterans may work for two and a half days a month without any deduction of veterans' aid. However, they may work on Sundays and at other times when their

Utah State Aggies Promise Strong Fight In Homecoming Feature

Saturday's Opponents Score Higher Than MSU Against Latest Victims; Expected To Bring Powerful Team

The strong Utah State Aggies, fresh from an impressive 47-to-0 win over Colorado A & M, will fight it out with the Grizzlies Saturday on Dornblaser field in the main event of Montana University Homecoming. Last year the Aggies trounced the Silvertips at Logan by a decisive 44-to-13 score.

Utah State has rolled up two wins in the last two games, whipping Colorado A & M, and defeating the Bobcats from Bozeman, 28 to 14. The only defeat suffered this season was at the hands of Colorado university, top team in the Rocky Mountain conference, by the close score of 6 to 0.

Grizzlies Beat

In comparison, the Grizzlies have defeated both of Utah's latest victims but by lesser scores. Montana handed the Colorado Aggies a 26-to-0 smothering, and won over the Bobcats last week, 20 to 7.

Coach E. L. Dick Romney, Utah mentor, will bring a strong aggregation to Missoula Saturday. Playing the quarterback post in the Utah State T-formation is John Caputo, who played with the ETO champions in 1945. Caputo is a fast 165-pounder. Against the Bobcats he pitched three touchdown passes.

The most potent power at the right half position is Jay Van Noy, an 18-year-old frosh, all-state back in Utah for two years. Van Noy's running has marked him for a major role in the Aggie "T" show. Frank Williams and Bill Ryan, 190-pounders, and both lettermen, alternate at fullback, while Ev Sorenson, another Utah veteran, plays at left half.

Center Is Reliable

Ralph Maughan, 6 ft. 193 pound center, is the old reliable of the forward wall. Maughan was all-conference center in 1942. At the tackle slots, George Nelson, former fullback of the '41 team, Moroni Schwab, rugged freshman, or Fernon Sonderegger, Aggie captain in '42, are the linemen who will see plenty of action. All are over 200 pounds.

Demont Walker, another letterman, will team up with Lloyd Hayes at the guard positions, and Norvel Hanssen and Dick Howard are most likely to start at the ends. Hansen was Utah all-state for three years while in high school.

Coach Romney employs the T-formation in much the same way as does Fessenden. The last two Utah games have featured plenty of passes and good ball handling off the T, so come Saturday, Montana fans should see plenty of aerial fireworks.

"When it was suggested that new emergency dormitories should be named after Idaho trees, a check was made to determine whether there would be enough trees to go around. The School of Forestry reported that the woods are full of them..."—The Idaho Argonaut, U of Idaho.

Touch Football Season Opens

Phi Sigma Kappa and South hall touch football players won their opening games against Sigma Nu and Independents, respectively. The scores of Monday's games: Phi Sigma Kappa 12, Sigma Nu 6; South hall 13, Independents 0.

The season's opening intra-mural games took place Monday on the Clover Bowl and the girl's athletic field. Double headers are scheduled each night next week, Monday through Friday and the correct schedule was announced in Tuesday's Kaimin.

SAE vs. Sigma Chi

SAE and Sigma Chi battled to a scoreless tie Tuesday night on the wet grass of the Clover Bowl. Approximately a hundred and fifty persons attended, and a spirited rivalry existed throughout the hotly contested game.

Phi Delta Theta vs. Theta Chi

PDT won a 13 to 6 victory over the Theta Chi touch ball nine in the first game of the season for both teams. The Phi Delt's winning tally came in the second half. Both teams slipped frequently on the wet grass and were unable to take advantage of effective passing attacks.

Army Ski Films Shown

Army films on ski instruction and club pictures taken last winter at Diamond mountain were shown Tuesday night in the Journalism auditorium by Lt. Col. Russell F. Fisher, ROTC, and Bill Tremper, Missoula, president of the University Ski club. Club members were in attendance.

A short meeting was held, determining the time volunteer work parties will start Sunday. "The Diamond mountain crew will meet at the Student Union building, with lunches, at 10 a.m. Sunday," Tremper said. Private cars will furnish the transportation.
